

Feature Animal: The Skate

The skate has a unique shaped and body to allow them to live on or very close to the of the ocean. They have a slender tail that contains that they use for They will often themselves in the to avoid and ambush prey. The and are situated on the underside of the body but dorsal allows them to still complete exchange. Skates are and produce their young in egg cases called Once the egg case has been deposited on the ocean floor it can take up to months before they hatch!

Sandy Shore

Can you identify these 6 animals that live in the sandy shore?

